Dear State Champions,

Congratulations! You have successfully completed another step towards advancing in the Babe Ruth Cal Ripken Tournament trail to the Midwest Regional Tournament for 2024. You can justly be proud of your accomplishment. There are thousands of teams that wish they were in your place.

The purpose of this booklet is to inform you of what you can expect and what is expected of you during your stay in Boonville. Please read every page of this booklet so that there will be no surprises during the tournament.

While this is the first-ever Regional Tournament of its kind, you must know that no matter what the result, you are still a CHAMPION! During your stay here, you are expected to conduct yourself accordingly by abiding by the rules and regulations set forward. Exhibiting good sportsmanship on and off the field, showing respect for your opponents, your teammates and coaches, the umpires, the fans, and your tournament hosts is a pre-request of your stay here. Many long lasting relationships are formed each year as a result of the Babe Ruth Tournament Trail; and many memories created that are cherished for years.

The people of Boonville have been making plans for this tournament for over a year, and it is their desire that your experience here will be a pleasant and enjoyable one. They have graciously opened their homes to you and we ask that you show your gratitude by helping in any way you can, abiding by the rules, following your schedule for games and practices, and communicating with them regarding your needs or requirements at all times.

Sportsmanship cannot be stressed enough. There will be several younger children at all of the scheduled events, and they will be watching you closely because in their eyes, you are “Big League” players. Please acknowledge this respect by demonstrating good sportsmanship on and off the field.

Good luck during the 2024 Midwest Plains Regional Tournament!!!

BOONVILLE, MISSOURI

Boonville is the oldest town in Central Missouri and is located in the very heart of the historic Boone’s Lick Country. It was settled in February of 1812 by the Hannah Cole family, whose relatives still reside in town. This family was the first settlers to locate on the south side of the Missouri river west of St. Louis. Boonville, named for Daniel Boone, became the center of the Boone’s Lick Country, an area where the soil was reputed to be the most fertile in the United States Territory. Because of the presence of salt in the water, animals often licked the ground nearby where salt had risen to the surface. Thus, the area was called a “salt lick,” later to be named Boone's Lick after Boone’s two sons who settled and opened a salt works there. It was also near the intersection of ancient Indian Trails whose unchanging importance to centuries of travelers – from the Boone’s Lick Trail to the later Santa Fe Trail – has been preserved by the modern interstate highways of today. Using these highways today, you can easily reach the city of Columbia (25 miles east), where the University of Missouri is located. The State Capital of Jefferson City is only (1) hour away. Kansas City is (100) miles to the west and St. Louis is (150) miles to the east. With many historic sites in Boonville, and Central Missouri, there are also many new and exciting places to visit. We also claim the only Gaming Boat on the Missouri river to exist in Central Missouri.

Youth baseball began in Boonville with the formation of the Boonville Junior Chamber Little League in 1953. The local league flourished for many years with participation in local tournaments before we affiliated with the Babe Ruth Bambino Division in 1986. We have hosted numerous State and Regional Tournaments and have had our fair share of Champions over the years with the most recent being our 9-year-olds, in 2019, finishing 3rd at regionals and advancing to play in our first World Series. Our continued involvement and support of youth baseball in Boonville has been a wonderful experience for everyone involved.

GENERAL TOURNAMENT GUIDELINES

1. CAL RIPKEN BASEBALL rules and regulations will be adhered to during the Midwest Plains Regional tournament at all times.. Unsportsmanlike behavior will not be tolerated, and could jeopardize the opportunity for a player or team to proceed in the tournament.
2. Sportsmanship will be stressed at all times. Judgment calls by the umpires will not be questioned. If there is a question concerning a rule, it will be discussed in a courteous manner. Protests will be handled as prescribed in the Babe Ruth Rule Book. Players, managers, coaches and fans will not be allowed to talk to the Protest Committee during protest deliberation unless so asked by the committee.
3. Smoking, chewing of tobacco or drinking of alcoholic beverages by any player, manager, coach or fan will not be allowed on the field, in the dugouts or in the seating areas. (Nor will Sun Flower Seeds!) Teams that allow players to drink beverages or eat food in the dugouts are responsible for cleaning up any debris from such activities immediately after each game. Please be aware that by city ordinance no alcoholic beverages are to be consumed in Harley Park unless authorized by permit. Everyone should be aware that public consumption, transportation of open containers and similar ordinances are strictly enforced within the City of Boonville.
4. The players, a manager, two coaches and a bat person are the only individuals allowed in the dugout area during a game. Any other necessary personnel to be in the dugout will only be allowed with the permission of the Tournament Director. The area between the dugout and the gate to the field or bullpen is considered a part of the dugout.
5. Managers, coaches and players are to remain in the dugout at all times except when participating in the game or time is called. Player-coaches are to wear helmets if required to be on the field.
6. Teams are not to verbally, or in any way, harass opposing pitchers, hitters or defensive players. Encourage your own players and do not make remarks to the opposition. Players should be advised not to argue with the umpires. Your manager will handle all disputes with the umpire.

ENCOURAGE POSITIVE PLAY AT ALL TIMES!

7. Catchers are required to wear masks and helmets during warm-ups both before and during the game. All catchers are to wear protective cups as required. Only players or coaches may warm up the pitchers. A back-up catcher is to be ready to warm up the pitcher if the catcher is not ready after the end of an inning. Pitchers will be allowed eight (8) pitches between innings and teams have one and one half minutes to be ready to play between innings. An additional player, with a helmet on, should be assigned to protect any pitcher warming up while play is going on.
8. No equipment is to be left laying on the field while the game is in progress. It must be in the dugout area.
9. The Home team will be assigned to the third base dugout. No team is to occupy a dugout until the home and visiting teams have been determined by the flip of a coin (after first round games). First round home teams have already been determined. See tournament pairings. If pool play is used the home team will be pre-determined ahead of time and available at the time of the tournament.
10. In the case of an injury, the game will be stopped at the earliest possible time. Do not come on to the field until time is out and the umpire signals you to do so.
11. Make sure your team knows how to appeal plays.
12. Teams will be given seven and one half minutes of infield practice prior to each game with the home team taking infield first. Infield practice will begin immediately after the ground crew is finished preparing the field for the game. You may not take infield until told to do so by the public address announcer. If you are late in starting, you will lose the time. Your players may warm up in the outfield during field preparations, but they must warm up perpendicular to the foul lines so as not to throw the ball toward the ground crew working on the field.
13. Players will be introduced before their first game with the starters introduced first, followed by the reserves, coaches and managers. Players should line up according to the schedule provided to the managers at their initial meeting. Managers are asked to shake hands at or near home plate before the start of each game.
14. Make sure players, along with the managers and coaches, shake hands following each contest.

GAME CONDUCT *

1. Umpires will enforce all rules and regulations covered in the Official Baseball Rules and the Babe Ruth Rules and Regulations. The umpires for the Regional tournament have had many years of umpiring experience. They are here to make this tournament the best possible experience for all. Players, coaches, and fans are expected to treat them accordingly. Three umpires will be used for each game.
2. The game(s) will be kept moving at all times. No unnecessary delays or mound conferences will be allowed.
3. ANYONE – Players, managers or coaches acting in an un-sportsmanlike manner – shall be removed from the playing field and facilities immediately. Fans may also be asked to leave the premises should an umpire or tournament official deem necessary.
4. ONLY THE MANAGER (no coaches or players) shall discuss any plays of a controversial nature. The Umpire in Chief shall be fully informed of the identity of each team manager.
5. Managers, coaches and players shall wear uniforms consistent with Babe Ruth All-Star or League Champions teams. No coaching shorts or player's shorts, no ragged shirt tails, etc. will be permitted. Shirt tails must be tucked in at all times. The Regional Commissioner or his designee will have final approval of all uniforms worn by the players, coaches or managers. All players, coaches and manager's uniforms must have the Cal Ripken patch on the left shoulder and at least a six (6) inch number on the back of each shirt. No number may be duplicated. Absolutely no player, coach or manager will be allowed on the playing field who is not in proper uniform without a Cal Ripken patch and a number on their uniform. Babe Ruth approved caps with the designated patch will be allowed for this tournament in lieu of the patches on the shirts.
6. Protective headgear must be worn at bat and on the bases at all times. A mask and throat protector must be worn by any player warming up a pitcher. Protective headgear must be worn by any batboy / batgirl or ball retriever. Bat boys/girls shall be prompt in delivering the discarded bats to their proper places at all times.
7. Equipment – hats, gloves, balls, etc. – shall be stacked neatly in their proper places at all times.
8. Discarding bats and protective headgear in such a way as to cause possible injury to another player or spectator shall be deemed unsportsmanlike.
9. Only players, coaches, team managers and bat persons shall be allowed in the dugout. NO ONE ELSE IS ALLOWED!
10. Only Babe Ruth approved bats will be allowed for tournament play. If you bat DOES NOT have the USA label on it, it will NOT be allowed for use.
11. It is expected that every player, coach, manager and spectator will conduct him / herself in an exemplary manner while representing their team, community and the Babe Ruth Baseball program. In doing this, we agree to abide by the:
 - Sportsmanship Code of Babe Ruth Baseball
 - Rules and Regulations of Babe Ruth Baseball, and
 - The Official Baseball Rules as published by the National Baseball Congress.

Inappropriate behavior, as defined by these resources, reflects poorly upon the entire program and is unacceptable. It is our belief that good sportsmanship is developed at the local league level.

As a result of concern over and discussion of this issue at the 10/27/2003 Fall Meeting of the Midwest Plains Regional Board of Directors, the following policy was developed in order to assist Leagues and Tournament Committees to foster and monitor the spirit of Babe Ruth Baseball:

“During tournament play, if an individual is ejected the manager of that team may also be ejected and neither may be eligible to participate in any capacity for the next contest as well. If ejected for a second time, he / she may be sent home at once and not allowed to participate at the next tournament level should the team win the championship. If problems of any form continue, the team will be declared out of the tournament.

 These decisions are not subject to discussion or to appeal

TEAM INFORMATION

1. All games shall be six (6) innings, unless the home team is leading by 10 or more runs at the end of three and one half innings of play. In the event a game is called before completion, the game will be resumed from the point of discontinuance. All decisions in regard to re-scheduling will be made by the Regional Commissioner and the Tournament Director.
2. All players, except the Host Team, shall be bound according to the Host Family Plan of Babe Ruth Baseball. (Not applicable for this tournament.)

5. Each player, coach and manager on the same team shall wear a different number on their uniform. The regular Cal Ripken shoulder emblem shall be worn on the left sleeve. 7. The Midwest Plains Regional Commissioner or designee, shall have the authority to remove any player, coach, manager or fan for actions detrimental to Babe Ruth Baseball. Any misbehavior or misconduct on or off the field could cause the disqualification of a manager, coach, player or the entire team from the tournament. Refer to the rules pertaining to conduct during tournament play on page 19 of this booklet.
8. The tournament is under the jurisdiction of the Midwest Plains Regional Commissioner, or their designated representative and the Tournament Director. The Tournament Protest Committee shall have final authority in all protest and matters not covered by the Official Baseball Rules and Regulations.
9. At least one (1) manager or coach from each team will be required in attendance at all meetings called by the Tournament Director or the Regional Commissioner. Preferably, the entire staff should be in attendance whenever possible to avoid confusion or discrepancies.
10. All teams are to arrive as a complete group and will depart as a complete group. There will be no exceptions, unless there has been prior approval given by the Midwest Plains Regional Commissioner or designee. All requests must be completely documented and with sound judgment having been used for such request and submitted through the respective State Commissioner.
11. The Midwest Plains Regional Tournament is a celebration of the State Champions representing the (8) eight states which make up our region. Since every team is a representative of their home state, we plan to incorporate a state flag into the tournament ceremonies. During the tournament and possibly during other activities, these flags will be displayed.

CAL RIPKEN, JR.

One of the all-time great shortstops, Cal Ripken, Jr.'s other achievements are somewhat overshadowed by his consecutive games played record. Baseball's tallest full-time shortstop (6'4"), he combined power and defense in a way rivaled by few of his predecessors. A hometown hero who played his entire career for the Baltimore Orioles, he started 17 consecutive All-Star games, hit more home runs than any shortstop in history and owns the highest single-season fielding percentage for a shortstop.

Born and raised in nearby Havre de Grace, MD, Ripken was originally drafted as a pitcher, but made it to the big leagues for good as a third baseman in 1982. Moved to short by manager Earl Weaver on July 1, he finished the campaign as AL Rookie of the Year, hitting .264 with 28 HR and 93 RBI. He also began a streak of consecutive innings played that hit 8,243 over 904 games before ending Sept. 14, 1987, and a consecutive games played streak which would last almost eleven more years.

In 1983 Ripken emphatically defied the sophomore jinx. Batting .318 with 27 HR and 102 RBI while leading the AL in hits (211), doubles (47), and runs scored (121), he became the first player to win Rookie of the Year and Most Valuable Player awards in consecutive seasons. Completing a storybook year, he recorded the final putout in the 1983 World Series as the Orioles defeated the Philadelphia Phillies.

Ripken had his doubters, many of whom found it hard to reconcile the images of a great-fielding shortstop and a heavy hitter. Steadily improving his defensive game, Ripken led the league in assists in 1983, 1984, 1986 and 1987; putouts in 1985; and double plays in 1983 and 1985. In 1984 Ripken set the A.L. single season record for assists by a shortstop with 583. But Ripken also led all major league shortstops in home runs, RBI, runs scored, and slugging percentage each year from 1983 to 1986. He was the American League's top All-Star vote getter in 1985 and 1986. In 1987 Junior was managed by his father, Cal Sr., and joined in the Baltimore infield by younger brother Billy at second base.

Over the years, every time Ripken's hitting performance declined, The Streak was cited as a drain on his strength and stamina. His father ended his consecutive innings streak in 1987, sitting him at the ends of several games whose outcomes were foregone conclusions. Ripken stemmed the decline and temporarily silenced the critics with his 1991 MVP season. The year was highlighted by a stellar performance at the All-Star game. After awing the assembled All-Stars and fans with 12 home runs in 22 swings during the home run derby, Ripken proved his groove was no fluke the next day as he belted a three run homer and won the game MVP honors.

Meanwhile, Ripken's consecutive-games streak continued to climb among the all-time leaders. He finally passed Lou Gehrig's record 2,130 on September 6, 1995 in Baltimore's Camden Yards. When the game became official after the bottom of the fifth, Ripken took a spontaneous lap around the stadium to shake hands with his adoring fans. Both before and after Ripken broke Gehrig's record, some seized upon The Streak to criticize Ripken as a goal-oriented rather than team-oriented player. In 1996, the issue arose again when manager Davey Johnson expressed a desire to move Ripken to third base so that Manny Alexander could be tried at shortstop. Ripken's thinly restrained dissatisfaction with the proposal wasn't as compelling as his shrinking range and weakening arm, though, and Johnson made the move on July 15, ending Ripken's streak of consecutive starts at shortstop at 2,216 games but the experiment was abandoned after six games.

In 1997, the Orioles acquired shortstop Mike Bordick and moved Ripken to third base permanently, a switch he seemed more willing to accept. Although he could no longer put up the big numbers he had earlier in his career, Ripken had a solid season both offensively and defensively at his new position. The switch made the Orioles a better defensive team all around, and they ended up winning their first American League title since 1983.

Diminishing power numbers in 1998 reopened the debate about whether a day off would benefit Ripken. On September 20th he settled the matter for himself, informing manager Ray Miller shortly before game-time that he wouldn't be playing that night. When young prospect Ryan Minor trotted out to third base to start the game, few people understood what was happening. After the first out, however, the visiting Yankees gave Ripken a standing ovation from the top of the dugout steps, and the Camden Yards fans quickly followed suit. 53 outs later, baseball's longest consecutive streak officially ended at 2,632.

The following season would prove arguably the most trying and rewarding of Ripken's long career. Less than two weeks before Opening Day, Cal Sr. succumbed to lung cancer. Burdened by his father's death and lingering back problems, Cal began the year in miserable form and when he went on the disabled list for the first time in his career, the whispers that he should retire grew steadily louder.

Following his return from the disabled list, however, a rejuvenated Cal silenced his critics by embarking on his most productive and extended hitting tear in years. Though he played just 86 games, Ripken set career highs in batting average (.340), slugging percentage (.584) and HR frequency (1 every 18.4 AB). The highlight of Ripken's season came on June 13th at Atlanta's Turner Field, when he produced the first six-hit game in Orioles history during a nationally televised Sunday night contest. The performance saw him blast two home runs and tie a club record with 13 total bases. On September 2nd at Baltimore he launched the 400th home run of his career. After the season, Ripken joined Ernie Banks as one of two shortstops honored with a selection to Major League Baseball's All-Century team.

On April 15, 2000, Cal gets the 3,000th hit of his illustrious career. He becomes the 24th player to reach the milestone and the 7th to get 3,000 hits and 400 home runs.

Retiring after the 2001 season, Ripken is approached about managing several Major League teams, including the Orioles, but elects to devote his time to his many business and personnel ventures. Among these include his newly associated partnership with the Babe Ruth League, Inc program. During his time with Babe Ruth League, Cal has overseen the implementation of many new teaching and training programs including the "Ripken Way", which incorporates teaching the game of baseball in a fun, simple and motivational way. In 2003, Cal showcased the opening of "Ripken Field" in Aberdeen, MD where the "Cal Ripken World Series" for 12 and under teams will compete annually.
